Polio Drive Tops Goal in County; Total Incomplete

The polio drive in Ottawa County has gone over the top! This was the joyful news announced at the monthly meeting of the county board of directors Wednesday night in the Jack Nieboer home in Olive township.

Reports are not yet final, but Co-Chairmen Merlyn Terrill and Ken Folkertsma in their preliminary report announced that the county to date is more than $1,300 over the quota.

Collected to date, according to preliminary figures, is $60,530.62 or $1,385.75 over the assigned quota. County Chairman Wilbur Cobb explained that goals in the cities and townships this year were based on what collections amounted to last year. The county total last year was a little over $59,000.

Terrill who directed the campaign in the north half of the county reported collections of $26,699.45 or $946.26 more than last year. Folkertsma who directed the campaign in the south half reported $33,831.17 collected or $442.49 more than last year.

Final reports will be made at the annual meeting of the chapter Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. in Allendale township hall. Paul Bagwell of Lansing, state March of Dimes chairman, will be the principal speaker. The meeting is open to the public.

Three directors will be named during the election. Those whose terms expire this year are Dr. Robert Michmershuizen who has left Grand Haven for Louisville, Ky., Mrs. Don Lemmen of Allendale and Art Coffey of Holland. At the election, the board will convene to elect officers for the coming year.

Present officers are Cobb, chairman; Earl Rhodes of Conklin, vice chairman; Mrs. Irvin De Weerd of Holland, secretary; and Charles K. Bugielski of Grand Haven, treasurer.

Township Group Asks Referendum

The Michigan Township Association is planning to circulate initiative petitions for a referendum vote amending the state constitution to return equalization of property valuations to the local county level.

Announcement of the proposed initiative petition was made in Kalamazoo today by Joseph A. Parisi, Jr., executive director of the association. Parisi spoke on behalf of the association and its president, Julius Sutto, Spaulding Township Supervisor of Saginaw County.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the group in Lansing Tuesday, a unanimous vote for circulation of the petitions was made following a discussion of the proposed amendment.

More than 200,000 signatures must be secured on the petitions by July 19. Directors at the Lansing meeting Tuesday indicated that a number of other organizations, including the Michigan Farm Bureau, the Michigan State Grange and others, will aid in securing the signatures.

The petitions will be placed in circulation as soon as they are drawn up, Parisi said.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, at his morning press conference in Lansing said he was "in complete sympathy with the problems of local taxpayers, but as long as the state distributes money—such as school aid funds—on the basis of property valuation, there must be state equalization of property evaluation or the distribution would be unfair and meaningless."

He said he always has "endeavored to place the burden of taxation more fairly upon those best able to pay" and repeated his recommendation that the Legislature adopt a corporation profits tax. Such a tax, he said, "would place the state in a much better position to distribute more fairly the burden of taxation."

Building Planned At Ottawa Beach

Bids have been let by the Parks and Recreation Division of the Michigan Conservation Department for the construction of a combination rest room and laundry building at Holland State Park.

The new building will be located in the new camp area near the north side of the blacktop road. It will be 58 feet by 25 feet and will be constructed of masonry and reinforced concrete and have a sewer connection, Park manager Clare Broad reported.

According to state officials, the new building should be ready for use during the heavy tourist season this summer.

Sealed bids will be opened in Lansing, March 15, and construction will begin soon after. Bids should be sent to the Parks and Michigan State Conservation Department, Steven T. Mason Building, Lansing, 26, Mich.

The $3 for the set of plans is not refundable and checks should be made out to the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Agent Advises Early Soil Testing

ALLEGAN (Special) — Farm Producers are advised by county Agricultural Agent A. D. Morley to take soil samples now. They should be dried, then brought to the county cooperative extension office where papers are available for giving the history of the field.

The history is necessary and is considered along with the test, type of soil, etc., in making the recommendation.

A possible freight car shortage in the spring along with weight reduction allowances on trucks will get the farmer's chances of getting the kind of fertilizer he wants on late orders.

That's the word from A. D. Morley, county agricultural agent. He calls attention to the critical freight car shortage last fall.

Fertilizer mixing plants, he says, literally are bulging now with fertilizers ready for delivery. And freight cars are more available than they will be in March or April.

But the local dealer may hesitate to purchase fertilizer because of financing or because his warehouse is filled with livestock feed, he adds. So, the solution to the problem, Morley notes, is for farmers to test and order fertilizer early, then store it in a dry place.

Minister and Wife Will See Biblical Cities

The Rev. and Mrs. John O. Hagans of 69 West 10th St., Wednesday began a tour that will take them through several Mediterranean, Middle Eastern and European countries.

Rev. Hagans, pastor of First Methodist Church of Holland for the past five years, and his wife, are taking the tour as guests of church members. High point of the trip will be their visit to Palestine.

Members of the congregation first thought about sending their minister to the Holy Land last summer, when Rev. Hagans spoke about a city in Palestine in one of his sermons. At that time, he asked the congregation if they knew the location of that city. Only a few could answer his question.

Several groups in the church decided then that by sending their minister to Palestine, the whole church could benefit greatly by his experiences there, new knowledge of the land and locations of places mentioned in the Bible.

Donations to a travel fund were made by individuals and groups in the church. The Young Methodist men washed cars and raised $200 for the fund. Their contribution was only one of many.

The Hagans will leave this country on Friday aboard the SS Independence from New York City, arriving in Naples, Italy, Feb. 19.

From Naples, they will travel to Cairo, Jerusalem, Athens, Rome, Lourdes, Paris and London, where they will catch a plane for the United States. They will return to Grand Rapids by plane on March 16.

High point of the trip to the Hagans will be the sight of the many places of Biblical importance in the country of Palestine. Historical and religious spots in the cities along their route are also included in the Hagans' tour plans.

Resort Owners Discuss Gripes At Port Sheldon

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Clinton A. Storm, chairman of a committee of resort property owners in the Port Sheldon area, said today the organization is not opposed to the construction of a Consumers Power Co. generating plant in Port Sheldon township.

"The only thing we are opposed to is the use of Pigeon Lake by coal boats and the dredging of a channel from Lake Michigan to Pigeon Lake," Storm said. "We realize that it would be hopeless to try and block construction of the power plant but we believe it can be built in a manner beneficial to all."

Storm said Consumers Power Co. officials have told him they may have an alternative plan for getting coal to the proposed power plant without using Pigeon Lake in about 10 days. He said he and two other members of the committee will attend a meeting of Port Sheldon township permanent residents and the Consumers officials at the Connell School in the township sometime in the next two weeks.

Consumers officials met several weeks ago with the resort property owners. This will be their first meeting with permanent residents.

Storm said 125 resort property owners, including some from as far as Detroit and Dayton, Ohio, met last night to discuss the project.

Richard J. De Vries, also a member of the committee, told the meeting that developments of Pigeon Lake as a port for coal boats was "one step in a threat to ruin Michigan's tourist industry."

He said the state legislature and the governor "should take heed of the situation." He said the St. Lawrence Seaway is one of the biggest reasons for "industries' interest" in property along the Lake Michigan shore.

Chester C. Wells, manager of the Western Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, said he thinks it's "too bad to spoil natural resources."

"But I don't know what can be done about it," Wells said. "Consumers has bought the land and apparently intends to use it."

Three Committed As Psychopaths

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Three Ottawa county residents were declared to be sexual criminal psychopathic persons at separate non-jury hearings before Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith today.

They are Burton Earl Potts, 17, route 1, Holland, charged with rape; Louis Tover, 38, of 138 Scotts Dr., Holland, charged with indecent exposure, and Avery D. Knowles, 49, route 2, Spring Lake, charged with indecent exposure.

Both Potts and Tover previously had pleaded guilty, and Knowles had been found guilty in a jury trial.

Testimony was given by three psychiatrists, Dr. David B. Davis and Dr. Andrew Hoekstra of Grand Rapids and Dr. Adolph F. Dasler of Muskegon, all of whom concurred that the three were criminal sexual psychopathic persons. Judge Smith ordered the three to be committed to the State Department of Mental Health to be confined and treated in appropriate state institutions until they have fully recovered or otherwise discharged in a proper legal proceeding.

Knowles failed to appear and upon investigation state police found he had barricaded himself in his home. A bench warrant was obtained and officers entered the home through a bedroom window and found the man clad only in shorts in the living room. When Knowles appeared in court, his attorney waived the jury trial.

Basket on Barn Brings Results for Roland Schut

A couple of spotlights placed on a barn just west of Hudsonville by Coach Roy Gerkin, Hudsonville High basketball coach, has received is a "shining star" in Roland Schut.

Gerkin put up the lights on the barn to allow Schut to practice "night and day" and in turn Schut has transferred his "barnyard eye" to the Hudsonville hardwoods.

Schut is the most talked about player in the Ken-New-Wa league because of his phenomenal basketball shooting ability.

The six-foot, 185-pound senior has dumped through 336 points in 11 games this season for a slightly better than 30 points per game average. This puts him far and away from the rest of the league scorers.

Basketball is the only sport Schut participates in since he works on the farm after school during the fall and spring months. With the installation of the spotlights, the husky lad was able to combat short daylight evenings in the fall and following the chores would wing the basketball at the hoop, nailed on the side of the barn.

Gerkin has built his team around Schut, the only returning regular from last year's Class B. district championship outfit.

"Pooch," as he is referred to by everyone in the school, has been used at center this year, after being a forward last year and has teamed with juniors and sophomores in winning seven of the Eagles 11 games.

Hudsonville uses primarily a 1-3-1 offense popularized by Jack Nagel at Marquette and former Aquinas College coach and Schut has been the middle man of the trio.

"He is the only senior and the only experienced player on the club and the other teams are naturally gunning for him. No team has played less than two men on him and some have used three at times, but he still has gone through to score," Gerkin said. Schut has been especially effective in breaking through zone defenses, Gerkin reported.

His favorite shot is the jump shot, good from 16 to 22 feet away from the bucket. He has a way of wading through the foes and getting the shot away regardless of how many outstretched arms and brushing bodies are attempting to stop him. So far this season, Schut has hit on 53 percent of his shots.

Besides the jump shot, he has an effective hook and is good and fast enough drive to go in often with a layup. On three occasions this year, Schut has hit 36 points and one of the times scored 18 out of 24 shots.

Limited last year because of his size, Gerkin reports Pooch has grown three inches and put on 20 pounds. "He continues to keep his spring and is our top rebounder and a best prep rebounder I've ever seen. He is able to jump up and grab the basket rim and swing from it," Gerkin said. With his jumping ability, Schut is also the top Eagles' rebounder.

In my opinion he's the best boy in Western Michigan today," the coach said. Gerkin has been at the Hudsonville post for eight years.

Schut, a B-plus student, plans a coaching career but is undecided what school to attend. He has visited Central Michigan in Mt. Pleasant, Gerkin's alma mater, and had a brother Bob, who graduated with honors from Hope. He'll make up his mind after basketball season.

In the meantime, he'll be setting his sights on the Ken-New-Wa league backboards.

Now listed in Class C, the Eagles will be in Civic Center to play the district tournament. That's the same place, Hudsonville won the crown a year ago.

With the Eagles playing against Class B competition all year and if Schut continues his pace, this might be the first step up the state tournament ladder.

Ottawa County Farm News

By Richard Machiele, County Agricultural Agent

I have had a number of questions recently regarding the advantages or disadvantages of liquid fertilizers over the conventional dry fertilizers. The stock answer has been that price per unit should be the deciding factor in using either a liquid or dry fertilizer. I am listing some advantages of liquid fertilizers over dry fertilizers:

1. Liquid fertilizer can be handled with small pumps. This results in a saving of labor.
2. Uniform broadcast application is easily obtained by spraying liquid fertilizer.
3. Materials are completely soluble in water so that they can be used in irrigation water.
4. Uniform mixtures of plant nutrients are easily obtained with liquid fertilizers.
5. Pesticides are compatible with many liquid fertilizers.
6. Liquid fertilizer may be used as foliar sprays.
7. The availability of nitrogen and potassium is not decreased when applied to the soil in liquid form.

Disadvantages of liquid over dry fertilizers are:

1. Special equipment is required for application.
2. Special containers are necessary for liquid fertilizer.
3. Complete fertilizers in liquid form contain relatively low plant food contents and very small quantities of secondary or minor elements.
4. Application equipment for placing fertilizer in recommended position in the soil with respect to seed is generally unavailable.
5. Phosphorus fixation (a decrease in solubility or availability) in the soil is generally increased.
6. Calcium and magnesium contents of liquid fertilizers have to be kept low to prevent precipitation of other plant nutrients.
7. Pounds per acre of liquid fertilizer applied may be limited because of the large volume of water needed.
8. Liquid fertilizers corrode certain metals.
9. Completely soluble carriers are required for the manufacture of liquid fertilizers. These may be more expensive than other carriers.
10. Grades requiring rations of potassium suitable for several crops growing on light sandy or organic soils are difficult to formulate unless low grade fertilizers are accepted.

Low hog prices mean farmers must save every pig possible this year. Even one or two more pigs saved per litter may make the difference between profit and loss. Figuring eight pigs raised per litter, the loss of one pig at farrowing means the loss of about 100 pounds of feed. Here are tips from Ed Miller, extension animal husbandman at Michigan State University on ways to save more pigs:

Put sows into clean pens two to three days before farrowing. Bed the pens with enough straw or crushed corn cobs so the sow will be comfortable.

At farrowing, hang a 250 watt heat lamp over the sow so she will be more restful. This will cut chances of her crushing newly-born pigs. And the heat lamp will keep the pigs warm, too. If the temperature drops below 30 degrees, install a second lamp. After 24 hours, move the lamps over into a protected corner to attract pigs away from the sow to prevent their being crushed easily.

Pigs should be evenly distributed among sows when two or three are farrowing at once. Move the larger, more vigorous pigs. Clip needle teeth of large litters in particular. There's more chance of the sow's udder being lacerated when several pigs are fighting for a place to eat.

Corn hybrids of the future will be vastly different from those of today, according to a report of E. C. Rossman, Farm Crops Researcher at Michigan State University.

Farmers can expect future hybrids to average two or more ears to the plant instead of just one. He speculated that the corn plants might be short and planted at the rate of 40,000 or more per acre. Or the plants might be tall and bear six or seven ears each.

With wider knowledge of plant breeding, scientists will develop hybrids that can stand more cold and yet produce higher yields than present types. Rossman also indicated that specific varieties will be developed for varying soil types and fertilizer treatments. Farmers will also grow special types of corn for special purposes like feed for livestock and for use by industry.

The future hybrids will also be more resistant to insects and diseases. They will be better adapted to new types of harvesting equipment.

According to a report from George Crabb of East Lansing, January, February and March produce less precipitation than do months but a higher percent runs off. The best way to protect your land from run-off is to keep it covered. Corn fields should be seeded to cover crop and fall plowing should be eliminated entirely. It is estimated that because of severe run-off, one of the rivers in Ohio carried 102 tons of soil from every square mile. This was relatively level country in northwestern Ohio. This indicates level land does lose a lot of soil through water run-off.

According to Dr. Arthur Mauch, Michigan State University farm economist, the fall bank won't mean too much to Michigan farmers.

Dog Notes

By Peter Boggs

The Milk Question, Again

Once or twice a week, I receive queries asking me if it is true that milk should not be fed to puppies "because it breeds worms."

You could give your puppies a trillion gallons of fresh, clean milk, and the diet would not breed on worms in the youngsters' insides. Milk is a perfect food for any pup—or for any grown dog or for any normal human.

But—if you give your pup a dish of milk and then let the milk stand in the sun, to collect germs and dirt—if you give him milk in a dirty dish that has been standing in the sun—there may be worms or other parasites which collect in the dish and which get into his system.

You would not feed your baby from a milk bottle in which the contents were sour or dirty or infected. Why feed such stuff to your puppy? No wonder it sickens him!

When he is through drinking, empty out the milk that is left in the dish. Wash thoroughly—still better, scald—the dish, before filling it again with fresh milk. The same with grown dogs' milk dishes.

Do this and you can give your dog all the milk he wants.

Evaluations

The other day I was asked to give my opinion as to the most intelligent breed of dog, the most loyal, etc. Here's how I rated them. Do you agree?

Most intelligent: French poodle and German shepherd. Most lovable: Cocker spaniel. Most loyal: Alredale. Most inclined to be a one-man dog: Chow. Friendliest: One of the hunting breeds. Trouble-maker: Wire-haired terrier. Best sense of humor: Springer spaniel. Hardest to make friends with: Pekingese.

Dogs In Germany

Keeping a dog in Germany these days has its complications. It is alleged that the owner of a dog must fill out five forms to get his pet's meat. If the dog dies, he fills out nine forms.

The Question Box

Question: How old should puppies be before they can be weaned? What should one feed them at that time?

Answer: When they are three to four weeks of age start giving the pups a little warm milk once a day. Increase this to three or four times a day until they are six weeks of age. Start feeding raw meat when they are five weeks old.

Question: I have kept my dog out in the barn all winter. He has now developed a severe case of dandruff. What can I do to cure this condition?

Answer: First give your dog a good bath with a coal-tar soap. Follow with a thorough brushing with a stiff brush daily.

'Grandma Moses' Tells Story at Woman's Club

"Grandma Moses" came alive for members of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. George Francis of Saginaw told the story of the famous old lady painter with appropriate costume and all the props you would expect if you visited "Grandma" yourself.

Surrounded by easels with replicas of some of the better known paintings, Mrs. Francis told the story of Grandma Moses with all the authority and humor she could pack into it. The story-teller even managed to use the speech "Grandma" would use.

On Pa's side of the family, the narrator said, Grandma had Hezekiah King and Archibald Robertson, a carriage maker and inventor. On Ma's side was the Shanahans and the Devereauxs. In explaining her forebears, Grandma told how she got her painting ability and her inventiveness from Pa's side and her thrift and generosity from her Ma's side of the family.

Grandma's mother always called her Annie Mary and at the age of seven she had her first birthday party. On a rare trip to town they found everything draped black and no signs of any activity. The family, bewildered, asked some of the townspeople what had happened. It was good Friday, April, 1865—the day President Lincoln was shot. One of the paintings is called "Williamstown" and commemorates the occasion.

At 12 Grandma was sent to a family, the Whitesides, to work. "They were Methodists," she said, "and very fine people." At 14 she went to work for the Burches, "they were Presbyterians" and very good to her. She finally went to school at 16 while working for her room and board and "graduated."

At 18 she worked for the Jameses and there met Thomas Moses, the hired man. She married Thomas and after a trip to New York, which was described vividly by Mrs. Francis, they moved to South Carolina to a farm. It was a hard life, but a good one. Of the 10 children in the Moses family, only five survived childhood.

When "Pa" died in 1936 Grandma Moses started to paint. She painted things she remembered, starting with old paints left over from the house or barn. After becoming famous, Grandma Moses was "incorporated" as she pointed out so often and wasn't sure that she liked that. Norman Rockwell came to visit her in her bedroom studio and she recounted that event with much pleasure.

A tea in the club tea room followed the book review.

The program for next week will be under the direction of the Public Affairs committee, with City Manager Herb Holt discussing "Growing Pains."

I notice that an attempt is being made to turn Kit Carson into a folk hero of the type of Davy Crockett. Strip cartoonists are beginning to tell the life story of the western tough man of a century ago; or rather the story of what they imagine happened to him.

As in the case of Davy Crockett, the current kid hero, there is almost certainly a bushel of myth for a few grains of fact.

If the Kit Carson project succeeds, the kids of the near future will believe a lot of things about Carson that aren't so, as they do about Davy Crockett at the moment. And anyone who takes the trouble to supply the facts will be roundly denounced. The kids must not be robbed of their hero, even though that hero was a crude and shabby opportunist. You are reminded that you must never tell the truth, if the truth spoils a romantic picture.

In the case of Davy Crockett, real hard money has of course entered the picture, as it may be expected to do if the Kit Carson project succeeds. Many a bill of goods that had become a drug on the market has become valuable and a best seller by putting the Davy Crockett stamp on it.

Don't think that this is anything new in American life. There is a neat example of it in our early history and in the field of American literature itself. No less a writer than Washington Irving discovered the fact for himself.

When he was a very young man, Irving wrote a burlesque of life in New York and America in general that he called "Knickerbocker's History of New York." It was all done in fun and the writer had no intention of satirizing the blue-blood New York Hollanders of the time. But he was denounced up and down by them.

Then a strange thing happened. A popular hero does not have to be real to win a place in the hearts of millions. Washington Irving of course made no pretense that his character, Diedrich Knickerbocker, ever lived. To the millions of our great-grandparents, to say nothing of their sons and daughters, he was real enough for purposes of folk worship.

Davy Crockett and Kit Carson were actual historical persons. But certainly not the Davy Crockett that kids believe in and worship. The pseudo-Crockett is much more effective than the real man in selling a bill of goods to the kid's parents. And that's what it is all for, as was the case with Diedrich Knickerbocker.

Junior CE Has Annual Rally at Sixth Church

There were 307 Christian Endeavor members, plus a number of relatives and friends, at the annual Junior CE rally Sunday in Sixth Reformed Church.

Carol Kraai of Sixth Church was chairman for the meeting. Robert Nykamp, Michigan CE president, led the song service with Mrs. Nykamp at the piano. Devotions were in charge of Marilyn Zwemer.

A sextet from Bethel Church sang two numbers, including one in Chinese. Mrs. Studley accompanied them. In the sextet were Paula and Pat Sprink, Beverly Kleinkentveld, Betty Lou Van Kampen, Marian Lucas and Sheryl Suzenaar.

Speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Joseph Esther, missionary to the Philippines. She told the children the story of a pair of shoes, made by an 80-year-old Chinese woman. The shoes were tiny, because he feet were bound when she was born and thus never grew. This woman, named "Black Stone," became a Christian at the age of 70 and is living in the Philippines with her daughter. She is unable to get around to preach, so she makes these shoes and gives them to other Christians who can witness and tell how she was saved from superstition and fear through faith in Jesus.

Mrs. Esther also showed the Chinese characters for Come and Joy.

Kathleen Hoedema of Trinity Church played three numbers on the flute, accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. C. Wabke.

Ted Boot of Trinity Church presented the banner to Sixth Church, which had 100 percent attendance. There are 334 Junior CE members in the city. Only 27 were absent for a 91.9 percent attendance.

The meeting closed with the CE benediction.

Grandstanding...

MIAA basketball coaches have spent the last couple weeks thinking as hard about passing in the classroom as passing on the court.

It's all over now, and coaches can breathe easier or harder as the case may be.

A look around the conference as the eight MIAA schools begin the second round shows that smiles in the first semester may be deeply furrowed frowns by the end of the season and in other cases sleepless nights may be a thing of the past.

Hope College, presently in the runnerup spot, lost four men and appears to be the hardest hit. The Dutch lost John Adams and Jim Hilbert, two first stringers, who decided to stick closer to the books this semester and freshmen Jerry Hendrickson and Dale Schoon, who both were declared ineligible because of studies. Hendrickson and Schoon had been used in reserve roles and both are over six feet.

Hillsdale, breathing right down Hope's neck in third place, picked up 6'10" Jerry Hilton. The big fellow transferred into Hillsdale in the fall after playing last year at Kentucky Wesleyan.

Hilton got into his first game against Kalamazoo last Friday and scored four points in a reserve role. His addition to the squad gives Hillsdale a possible trio of John Woods, 6'7", Ken Blizzard, 6'3", and Hilton.

Adrian, right now at 3-4, has begun its anticipated move up the ladder. Henry Hughes, the MIAA's most valuable player a year ago and the league's leading scorer, has rejoined the team and immediately the Bulldogs have come to life.

Hughes got 19 while getting his bearings in a loss to Calvin last week and since that time has pulled the Bulldogs to a 10-6 record. Hughes scored 34 points and 38 points in wins over Defiance and Youngstown, (Ohio).

Lyman Abbott, Adrian coach, from 1946-50 returned to the job just prior to the Calvin game and will handle the team the rest of the year.

Also joining the Adrian ranks after first semester book bouts was Jim Kellar. Bob Ohrman, star Bulldog cager in 1952, also has been reinstated on the club. Disposed coach Joe Fortunato had booted Ohrman off the team for breaking training rules early in the season.

Fortunato lost his job after a tiff with the Adrian College president. Reports have it that Joe was putting too much emphasis on athletics and the prexy wants to get Adrian a better standing scholastically in the North Central Association.

Albion College, also in the second division with a 3-5 record, has George Vivamore, a sharpshooting forward with a deadly one-hand push shot back for a semester.

This unique comedy deals with the happenings to a tiny section of London when it suddenly finds it is legitimately a possession of Ancient Burgundy, not a part of present-day England at all. Chairman of the ticket committee is Miss Penny Ramaker. The public is invited.

Precinct Division Notices Being Sent To 4,673 Voters

Fourth, Fifth, Sixth Wards Being Divided; New Polls Designated

Notices on division of precincts are being sent to all voters in the fourth, fifth and sixth wards, City Clerk Clarence Greengood said Saturday.

About 2,500 notices have been addressed affecting 4,673 registered voters in the three wards. In many cases, a notice covers two or more voters in the same household.

The notice informs the voters which precinct they are in and where to vote. It also states they must notify the clerk's office if they have moved from the address listed. The new state election law provides that this notification must be in writing, listing the old address, new address and when moved.

The fourth, fifth and sixth wards have been divided into two precincts each. The change is made in keeping with the new election law which requires no more than 1,400 registered voters in a precinct.

Boundaries of the wards are unchanged. The fourth ward is divided into precincts at 20th St. and the fifth and sixth at 22nd St.

Fourth ward, precinct 1, runs from the middle of 16th St. south to the middle of 20th St. These voters will vote in Van Raalte School.

Fourth ward, precinct 2, runs from the middle of 20th St. south to 32nd St. These voters will vote in Thomas Jefferson School. The fourth ward is bounded by Maple Ave. west to the city limits.

Fifth ward, precinct 1, runs from 16th St. to 22nd St., with voters reporting to Christian High School, 20th St. entrance.

Fifth ward, precinct 2, runs from 22nd St. to 32nd St., with voters reporting to South Side Christian School. The fifth ward is bounded by Central and Maple Ave.

Sixth ward, precinct 1, runs from 16th St. to 22nd St., with voters going to Terkerse auditorium in Trinity Reformed Church.

Sixth ward, precinct 2, runs from 22nd St. to 32nd St., with voters going to Longfellow School. The sixth ward is bounded by Central Ave. and the east limits.

The division as listed was approved by City Council several months ago.

Adventists Hold Business Meet

At a business meeting of the Holland Seventh-day Adventist Church Tuesday at the school, Pine and 29th St., reports for the year 1955 were read.

The 150 members returned a tithe of $14,880 and mission funds totaling $5,548, of which $2,269 came from the Ingathering for Missions and $3,057 from the mission offerings of the Sabbath School. Among the missionary activities reported for the year were 1,621 articles of clothing distributed and $1,215 given in cash donations for welfare work.

A co-operative supper, served before the business meeting, initiated the recently remodeled kitchen of the school. The need of better facilities for teaching domestic science and the social needs of the church and school spurred the remodeling project. Other improvements in both church and school properties marked the past year.

Officers for the current year include Franklin Cook, Dennis Slikkers, Howard Dorgelo and Julian Oetman, re-elected elders, and Willis Dorgelo, first deacon; Mrs. Fred Dorgelo, clerk; Mrs. John Dannenberg, missionary secretary; Mrs. Donald Keirnan, Sabbath School Supt.; Mrs. Robert Smith, leader of the Dorcas Society; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Oetman and Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Smith, leaders of youth activities.

Julian Oetman serves as chairman of the school board, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Carson are the teachers of the 27 pupil elementary school. The church is served by Elder Stanley W. Hyde, pastor.

Jostling With U.S. Informality Seems Good to Student in Germany

Guy Vander Jagt

I visited America Wednesday night. In a tiny American colony in Bad Godesberg a few miles from Bonn 500 American diplomats, secretaries and families buy Time and Mickey Spillane at the newsstand, see Marilyn Monroe and Marlon Brando at the movies, eat hot dogs and French fries at the coffee shop, live in typically American apartments, and talk about "those Germans" in American bull sessions.

"Little America" is only a five-minute ride from Germany and one can step out of the New World into the Old World and back into the New in one short evening but the sad fact is that each World hardly knows that the other exists.

My first stop in America was the commissary—a huge supermarket. Occasionally a reluctant pack horse on my mother's shopping trips in America, I never dreamed a visit to a grocery store could be such a thrilling experience. I sensed how a seven-year-old boy must feel in Macy's toy department during the Christmas season as I wandered down the aisles and gazed at popcorn, marshmallows, steaks as big as plates instead of oversized 50 cent pieces, frozen strawberries, ice cream and corn flakes.

In the coffee shop it seemed good to take off my coat without a waiter's helping hand, climb up on a stool at the counter amid clattering coffee cups and shout, "A hamburger and a chocolate malt—extra thick!"

At the movies I met a friend, Pat Colvill, an embassy secretary from Evanston, Ill., whom I had learned to know in a German class in Bonn University, and two of her friends, Joe Pitonis, Brooklyn, and Norma Price, Stillwater, Okla. We saw a cheap grade B picture but the joyful ease of effortlessly understanding every word compensated for any artistic shortcomings.

When we went to Pat's apartment after the movies, my reaction was like a poor church mouse seeing Buckingham Palace for the first time. There was a huge living room, beautifully furnished; a kitchen complete with automatic dishwasher and deep freeze; a bedroom as large as the average German living room and a bathroom with shower and hot running water. A Putzfrau (cleaning lady) works five hours a day keeping the rooms as spotless as a church sanctuary on Easter Sunday morning. Her pay? $3.25 per week.

It was difficult to disentangle myself from German customs and re-acclimate myself to American ways. We were on a first name basis from the introduction on in contrast, for example, to the German.

Stanley Lubbers was able to return home from Holland Hospital Wednesday after submitting to surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit J. Lampen and Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Lampen left Monday morning for a few weeks stay in Florida.

Rugged Big Reds Sock Dutch Hard For Ninth Defeat

MUSKEGON (Special) — A rugged, rangy and red-hot squad of Muskegon High Big Reds ran roughshod over a ragged Holland High five, 75-48 here Friday night before 650 fans in Central Campus gym.

The win was the Big Reds sixth in 10 tries this season and the loss left the Dutch with a 1-9 record. Holland has now dropped its last nine games, following one-point opening game win over Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, for one of the worst losing seasons in local cage history.

Friday night's trouncing was the worst of the nine setbacks. However the 27-point margin was a actual ability.

The Big Reds, using height and speed to good advantage jumped right off with a 4-0 lead and never again fell behind. For Holland, the Dutch slumped back into some tactics seen earlier in the season including many floor violations and lack of aggressive play around the backboard. Added to this, the Dutch were ice cold and couldn't hit on the shots that they were fortunate enough to get away.

Holland made only 13 baskets in the game out of 52 chances for 25 percent, the poorest showing so far this season. The Dutch tallied three baskets in the first three quarters and four in the final period.

The "unseen cloud" that seems to cover a Holland team when journeying to the "northland" to play Muskegon area teams hung low and probably added its bit to the setback.

Tom Ryan, a gangling Muskegon senior forward, pulverized the hoop in the first quarter for five straight baskets and led the first period onslaught of nine Big Red buckets. Holland's lack of aggressiveness resulted in no fouls, being called against them in the first quarter. The Dutch made four foul tosses and ended behind 18-10 at the quarter.

Zealous Ryan had three fouls in the first period, and Big Red Coach Ray Carlson took the scorer out. But into the driver's seat went goggled Chuck Blakely, a 5'8" guard. He smashed through 10 more points in the second quarter and put Muskegon into a 34-22 half-time lead.

Les Overway made two of Holland's three second period baskets and the Dutch sank six out of eight free shots.

It was more of the same in the third period as Blakely again led the Muskegon drive, getting seven points out of the 19 scored and Holland mangled to sneak in three more buckets and five out 13 free shots.

Substitutes riddled both lineups in the final quarter after the Big Reds had worked the court to 20 points, 53-33 at the close of the third period, and both teams had their best basket making efforts.

The winners made 22 points, led by 6'5" center Dave Johnson's eight and got good response from sub Jim Black and Jack Timmer, each with a pair of buckets.

Dick Vander Yacht, finding a jump shot hurried like a baseball most effective, sank three of Holland's four baskets and added three free tosses to lead the 15 point fourth quarter effort.

Vander Yacht, a senior, started his first varsity game and took high point honors with 14. He was followed by Overway with nine.

Blakely, who also gave Holland the most trouble in both games a year ago, ended with nine baskets and three free throws for 21 points. Johnson followed with 15 and Ryan carried 12.

Holland entertains Benton Harbor in Civic Center next Friday night and Muskegon plays against Saginaw. The Tigers lost to Muskegon Heights Friday night, 54-45 for their third loss of the season.

Grandstanding...

By Randy Vande Water

Phil Brooks uncovered a mighty interesting newspaper sheet published May 8, 1897 while rummaging around this week at the Hotel Macatawa, now in the process of being razed.

The sheet, a page from the Detroit Tribune, was found in a little nook of the hotel and Brooks brought it in for our observation before sending it on to Waddy Spoelstra at the Detroit News.

One of the items on the page is datelined Holland and is headlined—Brutal Prize Fight—45 Round Mill Pulled Off Near Holland.

Here's the story: "Eddie Shannon of Detroit, and Lew Agnew of Jersey City, fought a 45-round mill here this morning before 200 sports. The fight was pulled off in an old barn south of here. In the twenty-sixth round the Detroit fighter sprained his left wrist, but continued. In the middle of the forty-fifth, both men fell to the floor exhausted. The purse was $50 apiece and gate receipts. It was probably the most brutal prize fight ever pulled off in western Michigan."

The lead sports story on this particular Saturday in 1897 concerned a Western League game between Columbus and Detroit, with the Ohio nife winning 15-9.

Season's play had just begun and the teams had played 12 games. St. Paul was on top of the eight-team league with a 10-2 mark and Columbus followed one game behind. Detroit was fifth and Grand Rapids was eighth.

The lead was written in Biblical satire with the first paragraph beginning "And it came to pass that a great battle was waged at Bennett Park on the seventh day of the month known in the calendar as May. Swatters from Columbus and Detroit met in battle array on the green sward."

"And lo and behold it was Ladies' day, and the amphitheater was crowded with fair women and strong men."

Other choice bits from the article: "Now Daniels, Columbus pitcher, like Daniel of old, was an exceedingly wise man. In the language of the common people, he owned a strong pot side wheel and when he wound up that wheel he confused the enemy and brought woe and desolation among them."

"The swatters from Detroit ever and anon ran square into the port side wheel. Then base hits scintillated over the green sward like balls of fire from a Roman candle."

"Egan Pasha after bathing his temples in ice water and casting ashes upon his head renewed the strife and three times repulsed the enemy without losing a man."

"But the heart of Daniels was not in least bit bowed down. And Tebeau Pasha rallied his hosts about him and promised them a great feast if they would sail into Allen's Army and drive it before him. He then took root and the sons of Tebeau, girding on their armor, fell upon the followers of Allen and drove them even as chaff before them."

"That came about in the seventh chapter. And the enemy was greatly aided by two of Allen's men, who lagged by the wayside. He who is called Burnett, muffled like a baboon, a shot that he should have swallowed for his supper, which gave his followers a chill. And he from Texas, cypsel Steinfeldt, threw away a chance to take two of the enemy captives."

Baltimore was leading the 12-team National league on this day in 1897 and the names of Cy Young, Hall of Fame Pitching immortal, and Hugh Jennings, later Detroit Tiger manager, were prominent in league lineups.

Other times reported "They had it good at Windsor Track yesterday; Jackson batted out a 'victory from Lansing in Michigan State League and the Western League needs a few good umpires."

When he appeared Wednesday he first entered a plea of guilty, and after questioning by the court, the court refused to accept his plea, in view of statements made by the subject, and ordered that he take a week to think the matter over. He told the court upon his first appearance that he did not remember the incident with which he was specifically charged. When he appeared Thursday afternoon he admitted to the court that he was cognizant of the charge placed against him.

He will return for disposition on March 9 at 10 a.m. Bond of $1,000 has not been furnished.

Wholesalers First In Driving Poll

Wholesalers are still displaying their outstanding safe driving record, holding onto the top spot in the new survey completed by the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co., of Bloomington, Ill., according to Ben L. Van Lente, 177 College Ave., and Chet Baumann, 135 East 35th St., local agents for the firm.

Periodically, State Farm Mutual, the biggest auto insurance company in the world, takes a statistical look at the accident experience of its own policyholders — now at the 4,000,000 mark — and ranks the passenger car drivers according to their occupations.

Among the 64 occupational groups classified, proprietors and managers of wholesale establishments held onto first place.

The Insurance Company points out that the study of this survey is based solely on accident claim losses related to premiums among State Farm Mutual's own policyholders.

The survey shows housewives in 28th place in the safe driving record, a spot which they have maintained since 1953. Others include law enforcement officials in seventh place; farmers fifth place; their hired help, 47th; those in the financial field, third position; teachers, sixth; students way down at 62nd place; commissioned military officers, 30th, but enlisted military personnel bringing up the rear in 64th place as passenger car drivers.

Editors, reporters and photographers followed a middle of the road policy, seemingly, in their own driving experience. A look at the current State Farm survey discloses them in 26th place and lawyers have to work up a defense case for their driving with the evidence showing a slight drop from 50th to 52nd. Auto salesmen skidded from 32nd to a low 45th and veterinarians went from 22nd down to 33rd. Undertakers "buried" their record 43-deep after previous dignified 18th. Insurance agents and brokers were listed at 49th.

Rising substantially from their own previous standings are doctors, barbers, and beauticians, rural mail carriers and federal and state officials.

Miss Sally Jane Boone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Boone, Colonial St., was listed on the honor roll of the first term at Michigan State University, East Lansing. To receive this honor the student must maintain an average of B plus or 3.5 or better. A perfect mark would be 4.00.

Maroons Fight Off Visitors Comeback For Eighth Win

Holland Christian withstood a last half comeback by Grand Rapids Creston's cage squad on the Civic Center court Friday night and edged the Polar Bears, 52-48. A crowd of 1,800 fans watched the Dutch annex their eighth win of the season and nip a budding Creston winning streak at three.

Although the invading Crestonites never led after the first quarter, the Dutch were forced to hang on to protect their big first half lead to take the victory. It was pretty much a story of halves with the Maroons taking the first, 28-14 and Creston outscoring the Dutch, 34-24 in the last two periods.

Creston Bob Johnson put up strong a Creston club on the floor against the Maroons as the Dutch have faced in their long series with the Grand Rapids school. The squad is packed with sharpshooters and is perhaps the strongest defensive club the locals have met this season.

The Hollanders were not up to their form of recent weeks, but turned in a great second quarter to virtually clinch the victory. During this eight minutes, Coach Art Tull's club outscored the Bears, 17-3 and appeared to have the situation well in hand.

Creston opened the contest by playing a zone defense against the Dutch. Christian managed to hit but three out of 15 in the first stanza from outcourt to hold only a narrow 11-10 lead at the quarter horn.

However, in the second stanza, the Dutch gave a fine exhibition of zone cracking, forcing Coach Johnson to pull out of the zone after six minutes and the Dutch leading 23-14. Hitting well from outcourt, or passing the ball faster than the shifting zone, the Dutch managed to get several easy shots from the foul lane. A tribute to the Dutch's performance is that Creston never switched back to the zone—the defense which had been bothering most of its opponents this season. With Warren Boer and Dave Vander Hill leading the way, Christian held a commanding 28-14 halftime lead.

Christian managed to pile up a 17-point margin at one stage of the third quarter before the Polar Bears began to catch fire. Although the Dutch were able to keep a safe distance, Creston began to steal the tempo of the tilt. It was still 39-27 at the end of the third stanza.

Then in the fourth quarter, paced by sharpshooter Bob Woolney the Bears began to move. Creston hit seven out of 14 tries in the final period, with Woolney getting four of them. Once again foul shooting paid off in the closing stages as the locals hit on nine out of their 13 points scored in the last period. The closest Creston got was 51-48 with eight seconds remaining.

The locals hit 18 out of 30 from the foul lane while Creston managed 12 out of 15 attempts. Dave Bos, who played a driving game for the Maroons, was high scorer with 14 points, 10 from the foul lane, Vander Hill followed with 12. Reserve Cal Dykman also turned in a fine game for Christian. Woolney paced Creston with 18.

Christian next meets Zeeland in a Chix "home" game, Tuesday night at the Civic Center.

Coach Bill Noyd's crew, down at halftime 19-15, came to life in the third quarter after a verbal halftime spanking and scored 26 points while holding the losers to just 11, including only one basket in the fourth quarter.

The victory avenged a six-point defeat received here earlier in the season from the Tiger frosh. That loss was the lone Holland setback this season.

Muskegon Heights led at the end of the first quarter, 7-6 and pushed the lead to 19-15 at intermission.

Holland racked up 14 points in the third quarter with Ted Walters leading the way. The lanky center slid into the basket area from his corner post and was effective almost every time. Walters led Holland with 18 points.

Ron Dorgelo turned in an outstanding game on the boards and Larry Vliem did a crack defensive job on Art Oliver, Heights' leading scorer. Oliver notched 10, to lead the Tigers, but was far below his average. Floyd Cook followed with nine.

Dorgelo was Holland's runnerup with 10 points. Other local scorers were: Vliem, 2; Jim Van Putten, 4; Jack Hulst, 4; Hub Harrington, 3; Jim Overbeek, 2 and Russ Prins, 2.

Student Awarded Fulda Scholarship

David O. Van Eenennaam of Muskegon, a junior at Hope College was selected as the first American student to participate in the summer work-scholarship plan of the Fulda Rubber Works in Fulda, Germany. The announcement was made today by Prof. Edward Wolters, chairman of the selection committee. Lawrence N. Lup, junior, from Union Lakes, Mich., was selected as alternate from a total of six applicants.

David's outstanding scholastic record at Hope College particularly in the fields of chemistry and German were among the reasons for the selection, according to Dr. Paul G. Fried, committee member who was instrumental in obtaining the scholarship for Hope College. Dr. Fried also cited David's record in participation in extra curricular activities as a factor entering into the decision. The committee felt, said Dr. Fried, that David "could be a good, capable representative of Hope College and the United States."

Dr. Fried expressed the hope that this event will prepare the way for similar opportunities for Hope students in the future. This is the first year a student from the United States has been included in the Fulda program which has been in operation for several years. The program consists of a summer's work in the chemistry department of the Fulda Plant. The program is desirable in that it offers the student a chance to earn a salary and get to know the working conditions of the laboring people in a foreign country.

The student will be paid a salary sufficient to cover his expenses and allow him some time and money to travel in Europe. Arrangements are being made through the German Academic Exchange Service in Bonn, Germany.

The college has booked passage for David to leave this country on June 1 for Naples, Italy, from there by train to Fulda, Germany. His return passage is scheduled for Sept. 4.

Baker's Market Takes B Loop Lead

Overkamp's Parts, Steffens Market Stay Knotted in C

Baker's Market pushed out in front once again in B League Recreation basketball play, following a win and an assist from Dutch Novelty, and Overkamp's Washer Parts and Steffens Market remained knotted for the top spot in C league action following games Monday night in Civic Center.

The B league market entry stopped Stam's Mobilgas, 37-27 to keep first place after Dutch Novelty had bumped Wooden Shoe, previously tied for the lead, 46-36.

Ter Haar's Clothing pushed up into a tie for second with another 10-point win, 44-34 over Bor's Bootery.

Overkamp's had little trouble with Kitchen Planning, 43-36 and Steffens' turned in one of the season's most lopsided wins, a 61-30 victory over the All Americans.

The West End Merchants took over undisputed third place by knocking off Scotts, Inc., 33-25.

In taking over first place in the B league, Baker's, stimulated by Dutch Novelty's upset win, got started in the second quarter and began to pull away. The winners outscored Stam's 11-4 in the third period for the big quarter. Ken Van Wieren led the winners with 13 and Tom Vander Kuy followed with 12. Bud Redding had 10 for Stam's.

A 27-point second half after being behind by two points at half, gave the Novelty the win over stalemate Wooden Shoe. Bob Balford and Ron Bolhuis each had 14-point efforts to pace Dutch Novelty. John Stryker had 18 for Wooden Shoe.

Ter Haar's Clothing jumped off to an early lead and maintained it in coasting to the win over Bor's Bootery. De Witt was the big man for the winners with 13 and Toppen and Zomer had 12 and 11 respectively for the Bootery.

Overkamp's led all the way in besting Kitchen Planning in C league action with six and seven-point margins throughout. P. Dykstra was high point man for the Parts with 12 and Vander Sluis and Jacobs each had 11. Holtgeerts led the Planners with nine followed by Kolan with eight.

Ted Boeve and Bill Hinga combined to single-handedly defeat the All Americans as the Steffens Market crew kept the C league pace. Boeve carded 17 and Hinga added 15 while the losers, paced by Matt Numikowski's 11, had 30 points. A 22-point second quarter effort was the big Steffens push.

With the league third spot at stake, the West End Merchants shot to an early lead and kept it throughout. John Kruid paced the winners with 10 points and Lee made 13 for Scotts, nine of them from the foul line.

Two weeks of action remains in the B and C leagues. A tournament in each league will begin Feb. 27.

Albion Forward Is Top MIAA Scorer

John Hannett, Albion forward, continues to lead the MIAA scoring race, official league statistics released today showed.

Hannett has 67 field goals and 30 foul tosses for 164 points to put him 15 points ahead of Adrian's Leon Harper with 149 points on 64 field goals and 21 free throws. However, Hannett has played eight games and Harper seven.

Tom Newhof of Calvin is third with 144 points while George Carter of Alma follows with 136 points and Kalamazoo's Gary Morrison is fifth with 133 points. Paul Benes, Hope College center is sixth with 129 points and Maynard Stafford of Olivet seventh with 127.

Calvin's Tony Diekmann is next on the list with 124 tallies while John Woods of Hillsdale is ninth with 112.

The league top foul shooter with 32, Don Vroon of Calvin is 10th scorer with 102 points.

Whitey Riemersma of Hope has 96 points in seven games while Ron Lude of Alma and Jim Kok of Calvin are right behind with 95. Lee Jones of Hillsdale is 14th with 89 points.

Benes and Riemersma have played seven games and all the others have played eight.

Only Three Arrests

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—State police Monday reported only three arrests in the three counties the Grand Haven post covers—Ottawa, Muskegon and Oceana—since the new speed law went into effect Friday.

Dutch End Fast After Slow Start; Take Second Place

Hope College's basketball team waited back into second place in the MIAA race here Saturday night with an easy 96-53 win over Olivet College before 1,300 fans in Civic Center.

The 43-point victory was the most one-sided recorded by the Dutch this year and gave the winners a 5-2 conference mark. The loss buried the "omets deeper in the MIAA cellar with an 0-8 record.

Coach John Visser started the game Saturday with the zone.

This resulted in Olivet moving into a deliberate control game, moving into front court and then passing the ball around until a man broke through the zone.

Action was at a premium for most of the first half, but Hope put its fast break into motion, switching to a man-to-man offense and really broke wide open in the second half.

Jun Buursma, Hope forward, scored the first basket of the game after almost three minutes of play had elapsed. He got another basket one minute later.

Olivet, with Norm Schultz firing, slipped in a long shot seconds later and then almost two minutes elapsed before Hope scored again.

At the ten-minute mark, the score favored Hope 12-5. Play continued at the slow pace for most of the first half, with Hope keeping the upper hand, but not able to pull away.

With 4:51 remaining in the first half, the Comets pulled to a 22-19 score. Hope retaliated and pushed the mark to 30-24 at halftime.

Hope started the second half with a bang with guard Harold Molenaar getting two buckets, two free shots and center Paul Benes adding a tipin and the Dutch were on their way.

Three minutes had elapsed and the count stood at 41-28 and from then on it continued to skyrocket as the Dutch enjoyed one of the best free averages of the season.

Hope struck 50 times and counted 25 in the second half for 50 percent. This followed a dismal 12 out of 46 for 26 percent in the opening half. The Dutch ended with 38 percent for the game.

Whitey Riemersma, working out of an offensive guard position for the first time, paced the second half early drive after Molenaar took a rest. Riemersma swished through five buckets and three free tosses in the 10-minute interim that saw Hope push to a 65-35 lead.

Maynard Stafford, sixth best scorer in the MIAA, had his best shooting effort also right after the half, sinking 10 points.

Benes led Hope with 22 points, spacing nine field goals throughout the game. He added four free shots. Stafford had 17 for the Comets.

Visser gave every member of his nine-man squad a heavy workout in the contest, substituting freely all the way. The Hope coach sent Bob Ritsma into one of the four spots from time to time and the 6'4" lad looked good along with Riemersma at his guard spot.

Also pleasing was the work of the Dutch reserves. Bob Thomson, Detroit freshman, scored 10 points from his forward post and did a fine job of passing off on fast breaks. Mert Vander Lind, stocky sophomore guard, came through with three buckets and five foul shots and Dave Woodcock, who should work into a rugged board man, countered with seven points and picked several rebounds, throwing his 200 pounds around with authority under the basket.

Dwayne Teusink, Holland sophomore, was the last of the nine Dutch players to score, but quickly displayed fine driving power in potting three layups and a long shot in the closing minutes.

This was Hope's highest scoring total made in the conference this year.

Olivet ended the contest with 18 baskets in 64 attempts for 28 percent. The Comets had eight for 28 in the first half and 10 for 36 in the final half.

Holland's Water Supply System Explained to Club

The pipeline system of water supply for Holland from Lake Michigan will have more than fifty percent excess capacity over the present load of seven million gallons per day, said Thomas B. Robinson, engineer from Black and Veatch consulting engineers of Kansas City, Mo. Robinson addressed a meeting of the Century Club on "Water Problems in Our Country" at Hope Church parish hall Monday evening.

Robinson said that a survey made of the present water system in Holland shows that the well-field in the area can not be an adequate source of water supply for the growing population. Water level of the well-field, he said, has already receded since the survey was made.

The pipeline system would have, he said, two advantages over the present system. It can handle more than an adequate supply of water for several years to come. Secondly, the residents will have softer water than they receive today.

The pump station at Lake Michigan, Robinson figured, will have an intake capacity of 40 million gallons per day.

People, he said, always grumble about the price of utilities, but it is seldom realized that "water is the best buy in the market." While water rates will certainly increase to cover improvements in supply, no person can drink more than three cents worth of water in a whole week.

Robinson, who described the water situation in the world in general and in this country in particular, said that the sum total of water in and around the earth, remains the same, although its distribution in the atmosphere or the different geographical regions may vary. Man is, however, constantly reducing the quantity of beneficial water through pollution.

Water supply industry in the U. S., he said, is the largest of all industries in tonnage of output. The annual water output in tonnage is over eight times more than that of all other industries combined. About 70 percent of water supply systems in the country are publicly owned, the rest is privately owned.

A number of city officials and members of the Board of Public Works were present to hear Robinson's talk. Music was provided by Mrs. Marion de Velder accompanied by Mr. Harold Karsten.

Dr. Marion de Velder presided. Randall C. Bosch, president of the BPW, introduced the speaker.

Maroons Fight Off Late Zeeland Bid; Vander Hill Stars

Holland Christian's cage quad fought off a desperate Zeeland High rally in the closing minutes on the Civic Center court Tuesday night to edge the Chix, 57-51. Another capacity crowd of 1,700 plus, watched the Maroons top the Zeelanders for the second time this season.

The win boosted the Dutch to a 9-4 mark for the season while Zeeland now has an 8-3 season record.

Christian's hard fought win was highlighted by the 32 point scoring exhibition by Holland's fine center, Dave Vander Hill. Unquestionably one of the finest prep centers in this area, the lanky pivotman is believed to have set a new school scoring record, according to school officials.

Vander Hill hit an amazing 13 out of 18 tries at the hoop throughout the contest, mostly on his one handed jump shot from the foul area. He scored 14 markers in the first half and 18 more in the second. To top it off he was the game's outstanding rebounder, in addition to knocking down several would be Chix shots.

Christian almost played a repeat of last week's Grand Rapids Creston tilt, as they built up a sizeable halftime margin, only to see it slip away in the final two quarters. However against the Zeelanders as well, the Dutch came through in the pressure-packed finale to snatch the win.

Coach Mel Bouma's Zeeland outfit turned in a better performance than in the first meeting between the two clubs. Characterized by their tremendous scrap, particularly in the second half, the Chix were a good ball club against the Maroons.

In the shooting department both clubs were on, but each was cautious in the amount of shots taken. The Hollanders connected on 23 out of 49, for a 47 per cent average—thanks to Vander Hill. Zeeland also took 49 shots, hitting on 20 for almost a 40 per cent average.

At one stage in the third quarter, the Maroons had built an 18 point margin before the Chix began their drive which came within three points of overtaking the Dutch. But once again, the poised Dutch took over, to build an eight point lead and then coast in the final minute.

Zeeland started out with a zone defense against the locals, but the Maroons had little trouble in piercing it to move out to a nine point lead early in the first period. By the end of the stanza, the Dutch led 17-10.

The losers fell further behind in the second period, as the Dutch began to work the ball around the zone to Vander Hill who scored with ease. Finally with the count 29-16 and two minutes left, the Chix switched to a man to man defense. Christian managed one more basket to lead 31-16 at halftime.

Christian's offense bogged down badly in the third quarter, as the now offense-minded Zeelanders began to step up the pace. Midway in the third period, due to some fine driving by Art Klamt and Jim Kaat, the Chix had pulled to a 36-26 deficit. By the end of the quarter, the Dutch still led 41-30.

Zeeland continued to pepper away in the final period and pulled up to a 49-46 count with two minutes left. Then however, as the Chix put more pressure on the Maroon guards, the locals fed Vander Hill with ease, who iced the victory with three straight layups.

At the foul lane, the Dutch hit on 11 out of 18 while the Zeelanders connected on 11 for 23. Following Vander Hill with 32 was Christian's Dave Bos with 13. Zeeland which has been getting balanced scoring all season, got more of the same, with Kaat getting 14, Klamt, 12 and Carl Wissink, 11.

Christian next travels to meet the potent Allegan outfit on Friday.

ICE BEST THIS YEAR—With the ice on Lake Macatawa the best it has been in several years, the ice shanties are plentiful. Shanties are scattered all over the lake with clusters of them in the Pine Creek bay and Big Bayou. The ice is around 12 inches thick in most places. Shanties made their first appearance this season at about Christmas, which local anglers report is unusually early. The fishing hasn't been the best this year but has improved the last couple of weeks. Large catches of speckled bass have been reported and perch are biting more in the Bayou and is also better now in the Pine Creek Bay area. Quite a number of fishermen are driving their automobiles right to the door of their shanties. This is the first time in quite a spell "regular roads" lead from the shanties to the car.

Plantings Made For Lilac Lane

Considerable progress has been reported on development of Lilac Lane on M-21 between Grand Rapids and Holland, it was learned today.

Already 1,000 lilac bushes and 500 other ornamental trees have been planted by the Michigan State Highway department which has launched a program to plant 1,000 lilac bushes and 500 trees every April and October until available planting space is exhausted. The program is working from Jenison toward Holland.

Meanwhile, the committee is promoting further cooperation by contacting garden clubs, service clubs, other organizations and individuals to supply additional plantings at wholesale cost.

The five-man Lilac Lane council is composed of Raymond H. Vander Laan, Hudsonville, chairman; Ivan Zwighuizen, Grandville; George Van Koeve, Zeeland; William H. Vande Water, Holland, and Fred H. Baker, Grand Rapids, secretary. Serving on the advisory board are Aurey Strothpaul, B. G. Brown, Willard Baird, W. A. Butler and A. C. Kuipers.

Plantings other than those provided by the highway department will be identified by a rustic sign approximately 12 by 20 inches atop a five-foot pole bearing the legend, "This Planting Sponsored by..."

Promoters of the Lilac Lane project feel that it will be an additional attraction for the tourists who come to Holland every May for Tulip Time, and consequently will provide color and landscaping for beautifying Michigan highways.
